THE ROYERTON SENIORS

Foreward

The Senior class of "43", after much discussion and debating, chose a very fitting and appropriate theme of "Victory" for our book, which was used throughout.

We leave this Panorama with much pride and sorrow; pride that we have accomplished something in our twelve years of study; and sorrow that we must leave our friends and good times to face the unknown world in its present conditions.

To all who read this book, we hope it expresses some of the values we have attained from attending Rcyerton High School.

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1943, think it only fitting and proper and deem it a pleasure to dedicate this book to our sponsor, Mr. Stebbins, who has so willingly and ably guided and directed the building of our foundation of life.

To Mr. Lee O. Baird, Delaware County Superintendent, the Seniors of Royerton High School, as all Delaware County Seniors, owe much gratitude. Through his cooperation we have gained higher standards of education.

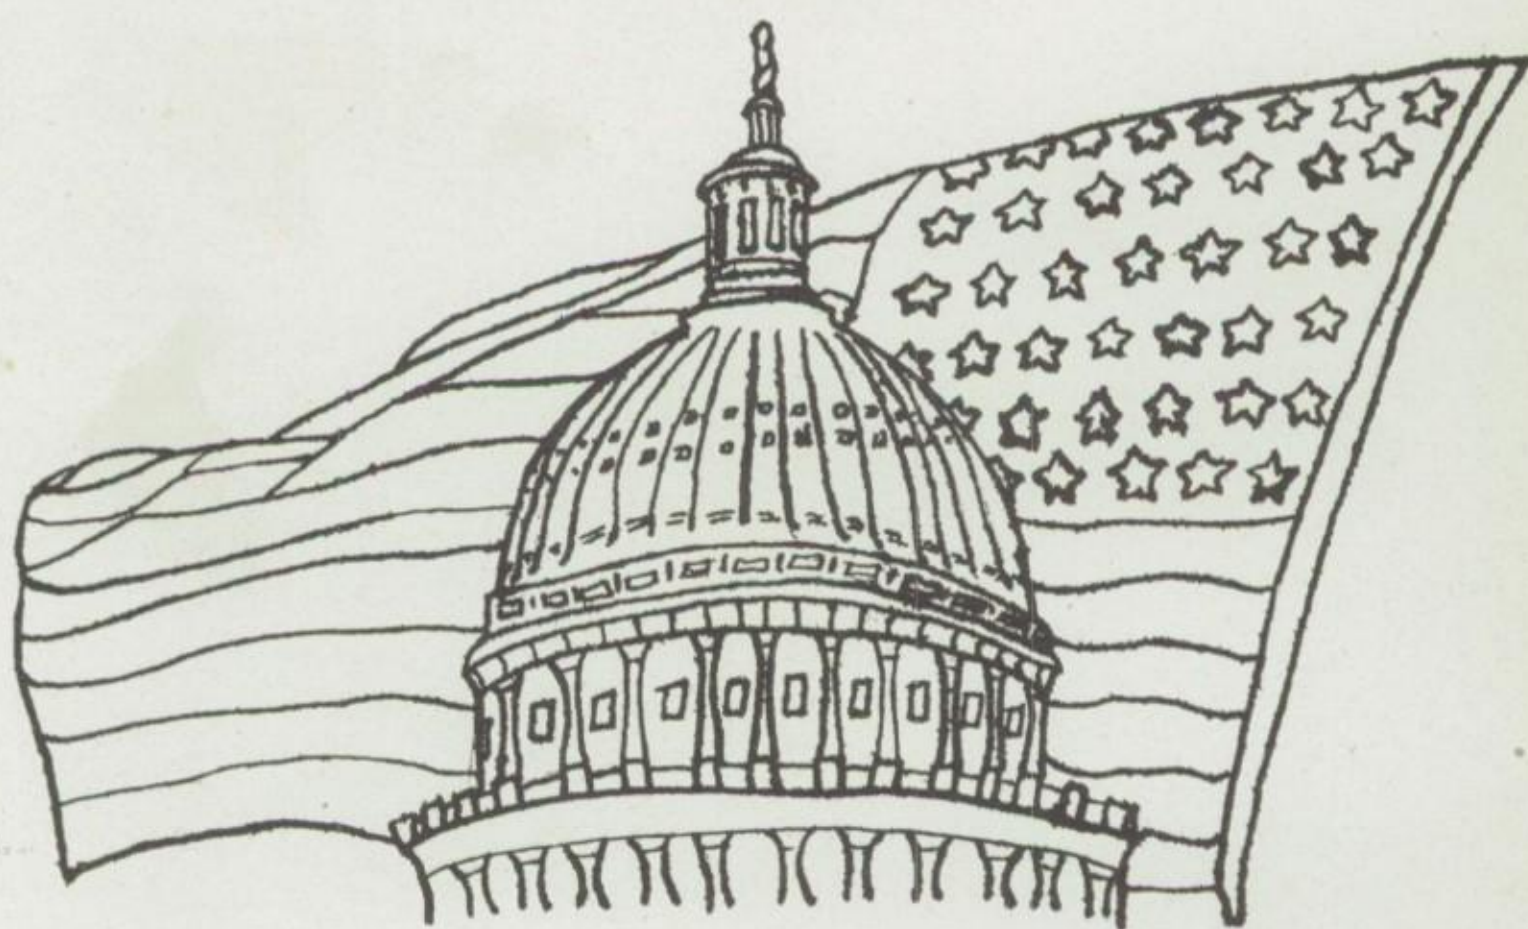

We are thankful to Mr. Lowell Stafford, our trustee, for his interest and fine work in our behalf. Through his efforts Royerton School now has a service flag with blue stars representing the boys serving for our country, who have attended Royerton High School, and gold stars representing those who gave their lives. Above this symbol of patriotism shines a light which will burn for the duration of the war.

The Seniors of "43" wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our principal, Mr. French. Due to his excellent guidance and encouragement, we have enjoyed a successful and enjoyable school term.

On December 23, 1942, the teachers had their annual Christmas Dinner. The tables were very attractive with pine cones, candles, cedar branches and old Santa with his rein-deers. Turkey with all the trimmings was served by Mrs. VanAllen.

After the feast Mr. Boyer led the teachers in singing Christmas Carols. Mr. Stebbins took pictures of the group.

Mr. Newton acted as Santa Claus and presented gifts to everyone.

A very good time was had by all.

VICTORY LASSES

Senior Class History

It was a bright September day in the fall of nineteen thirty-nine, when our good ship, the "Freshman", launched from the port of Royerton, set sail on the vast sea of education.

The members of the crew of this fine vessel consisted of Mary Hiatt, Ralph Lawson, Thomas Scott, Vera Jean Straddling, Juanita Strahan, Helen Ullom, Philip Hesson, Billie Ullom, Bob Meranda, Bonnie Kirkham, John Clevenger, George Wine, Donna McCreery, Martha Leannah Harman, Glenn Bushey, Marjorie Hawk, Maurice Grile, Durward Moore, Jay F. Strom, Lois Young, Ray Eller, Ralph McLaughlin, Mary Louise Siferd, Charles Brown, Max Burt, William Sargent, Bill Walker, Don Byrd, George Fisher, and Howard Head.

The captain, chosen by the crew members at the start of the voyage, was Miss Martin, now Mrs. Brierly.

After exploring the islands of English, Algebra, and Biology our faithful little ship sailed back into port in the spring but most of the crew were dissatisfied with the boat so we had another constructed.

The fall of next year, nineteen forty, saw us launching our new vessel, the "Sophomore", for another voyage.

A new captain was chosen this year for Mrs. Brierly had moved away. The new captain was Mr. Newton.

We sailed happily through English, Ancient History, Geometry, and Latin with no other additions to our crew.

Riding safely out of these waters at the end of the school year we discovered that the "Sophomore" would be too small for the coming year so another ship was built.

Christening our new ship the "Junior", we again set sail next year, nineteen forty-one, but this time several people joined our crew. They were Dick Swain, Roy Beal, Olive Tuttle, Loretta Headley, Myrtle Guffey, and Pat Hillery. The crew also chose a new captain, Mr. Stebbins, to guide us farther into the great sea.

In the spring we sailed once more into our home port after battling successfully with English, History, Typing, and other subjects. The crew survived these battles but not the boat.

In the fall of nineteen forty-two, with a new boat, the "Senior", we set sail for the last time on this wonderful sea of learning.

Norma Flesher and Beulah Harrison were added to our crew this year while Mr. Stebbins continued to guide our good ship through the waters.

During this voyage, while we were deep in the study of Civics, Chemistry, Bookkeeping, and other studies, Howard Head was lured away from us to another vessel.

Thus we have traversed these vast waters and have for the last time headed into the port of Royerton with the feeling that we have explored thoroughly each opportunity offered us and with the feeling, also, that each of us are ready to try our hand at sailing our own vessel across the "sea of life".

RALPH McLAUGHLIN

Summary of Senior Activities

The Seniors were forced, because of the war and rationing of different articles, to curtail many of their activities this year. But in spite of all this they all had a wonderful year.

A Senior Class party was held at the home of Betty Rutledge in November. All who attended had a good time.

The Christmas program was put on as usual by the Seniors and gifts were exchanged.

Since then most of the Seniors have been working on the Panorama, taking time out only long enough to take a short trip to Indianapolis. They drove private cars on the trip and stayed at the Hotel Lincoln in Indianapolis. While in the capital the seniors visited the Soldiers and Sailors Monument, the Scottish Rite Cathedral, and the Indianapolis News. All had a great time and after seeing the hockey game journeyed back to Muncie, exhausted but happy.

The next important event was graduation, the biggest and most important of all. We had waited twelve years for this, and now we were sorry it was here.

Senior Class Prophecy

The night was wild and dark and dreary;
It rained and the wind was oh so weary.
I seated myself in the cozy room
By the fireside with its bright, cheery bloom.
It seems that the Fates must have touched my brow,
For in no other way can I account for it now.
Those figures that into my vision flew
And left their impressions, whether false or true.
Ten years have flown; "53" the date
And the chums of my high school, both modest and great,
Came flocking around me, each having his say
And all of this happening in a wonderful way.
First came "Doc Strom", the whiz at chemistry.
He had studied hard and now "M.D."
Was attached to his name, I was glad to see,
Then dear little Helen Ullom of high school fame
Had won for herself a glorious name.
She had really written a wonderful book.
I knew it was fine from her very look.
And "Sunshine", that very genial young man
That murmured and whispered as only he can,
A prosperous merchant now is he
With a home and love, as happy as can be.
And Donna and Martha, just two of a kind,
And both had developed a wonderful mind
For two brothers and, strange 'tis to say,
They were twins, too, and now all are happy and gay.
And then came a sweet-faced woman of grace,
Mary Louise had found in the world a fine place.
She had followed Miss Abraham in Royerton High School
And had Bookkeeping and Typing and taught them by rule.
Then came a tall fellow with a serious face
And it seemed that I could find him no single place.
But at last, through that clerical look I espied
Our "Tiny", the joy of our hearts and our pride.
But who's this that now comes into the light?
It's Marjorie Hawk and a very fair sight
She is, to be sure, a great movie star!
Whom to see, people come from near and from far,
And almost unchanged two sweet matrons came
They were Strahan and Straddling and no one could blame
Them for being so happy with such fine looking men.
They told me their names—but they're both gone again.
Then I turned my head to see two happy men.
They were Meranda and Fisher—they saw me and then
They told of the luck both had had galore.
Each still owned a Ford and wished for no more.
A pretty singer was next. It was Loretta Headley,

Senior Class Prophecy

And when the music played, she could sing quite a melody.

But, who are these ladies who come into view?

Why Kirkham and Young, indeed it is true.

They told me they turned to the political field

And found there great glory and much power to wield.

And just as the beautiful ladies left

And I was feeling old and bereft

In came a young man with hair black as a raven.

It was Bill Sargent, and as usual he was unshaven.

In our class he was the master mechanic

And now his job is to sail the Atlantic.

And then came six ladies passing by.

Try as I would, I could catch not an eye.

They were Hiatt, Rutledge, and Myrtle, all walking slow,

Hillery, Flesher, and Tuttle, behind them, did go

And each had a sign to wave every way.

"Men Haters Club", they were seen to say.

Four men came then, each carrying a tool

For they had become farmers when they got out of school.

Burt, Scott, and Moore, and Swain, too

All growing food for me and for you.

Don Byrd came next and as a golfer he was top

For nothing in the world could make him stop.

Beulah Harrison followed then, as quiet as of old,

Her story of matrimony was soon told.

Who is this sitting in wails and in tears?

It's Walker and Wine, who've been married for years.

They both found that marriage was no bliss

Even though it was sealed with a kiss.

Beal, Hesson, and Eller had formed a corporation

To sell better mousetraps to all of the nation.

The deal didn't work out quite satisfactory

So now they all still work in the factory.

There aren't many more visions left to see

For I've seen what most of them will turn out to be.

Bushey's next. He's gone far since then

For he is a master when he takes up his pen.

Grile and McLaughlin both learned to cut hair.

They give a good haircut but of their shave, beware!

And then there was Clevenger, he made a success

For they hired him in Hollywood just to say yes.

An officer of the U. S. Navy, next, came,

Who, through valor and bravery, gained much fame.

It was Billie Ullom, standing stately and strong

Prepared to guard our nation against all wrong.

How the winds blow so wild and so dreary.

It rains and the storm seems never to weary,

But I rouse me up by my bright fireside

And gone are the visions! To recall them I've tried.

At the opening of school the Junior Class met and elected officers, which are as follows:

President	Jack Buschor
Vice-president	Betty Michener
Sec. and Treas.	Donna Huffer

Soon after this the candy room was opened, which proved to be very profitable in spite of the difficulty in obtaining candy and ice cream.

The class held two parties during the year—a Thanksgiving party held at the Riggins Dairy and an "athletic" party held at the school.

Although the class activities were limited because of the war, we feel that we have had a very successful year, and we would like to thank Mr. Boyer for his help and guidance throughout the year.

The Sophomore Class

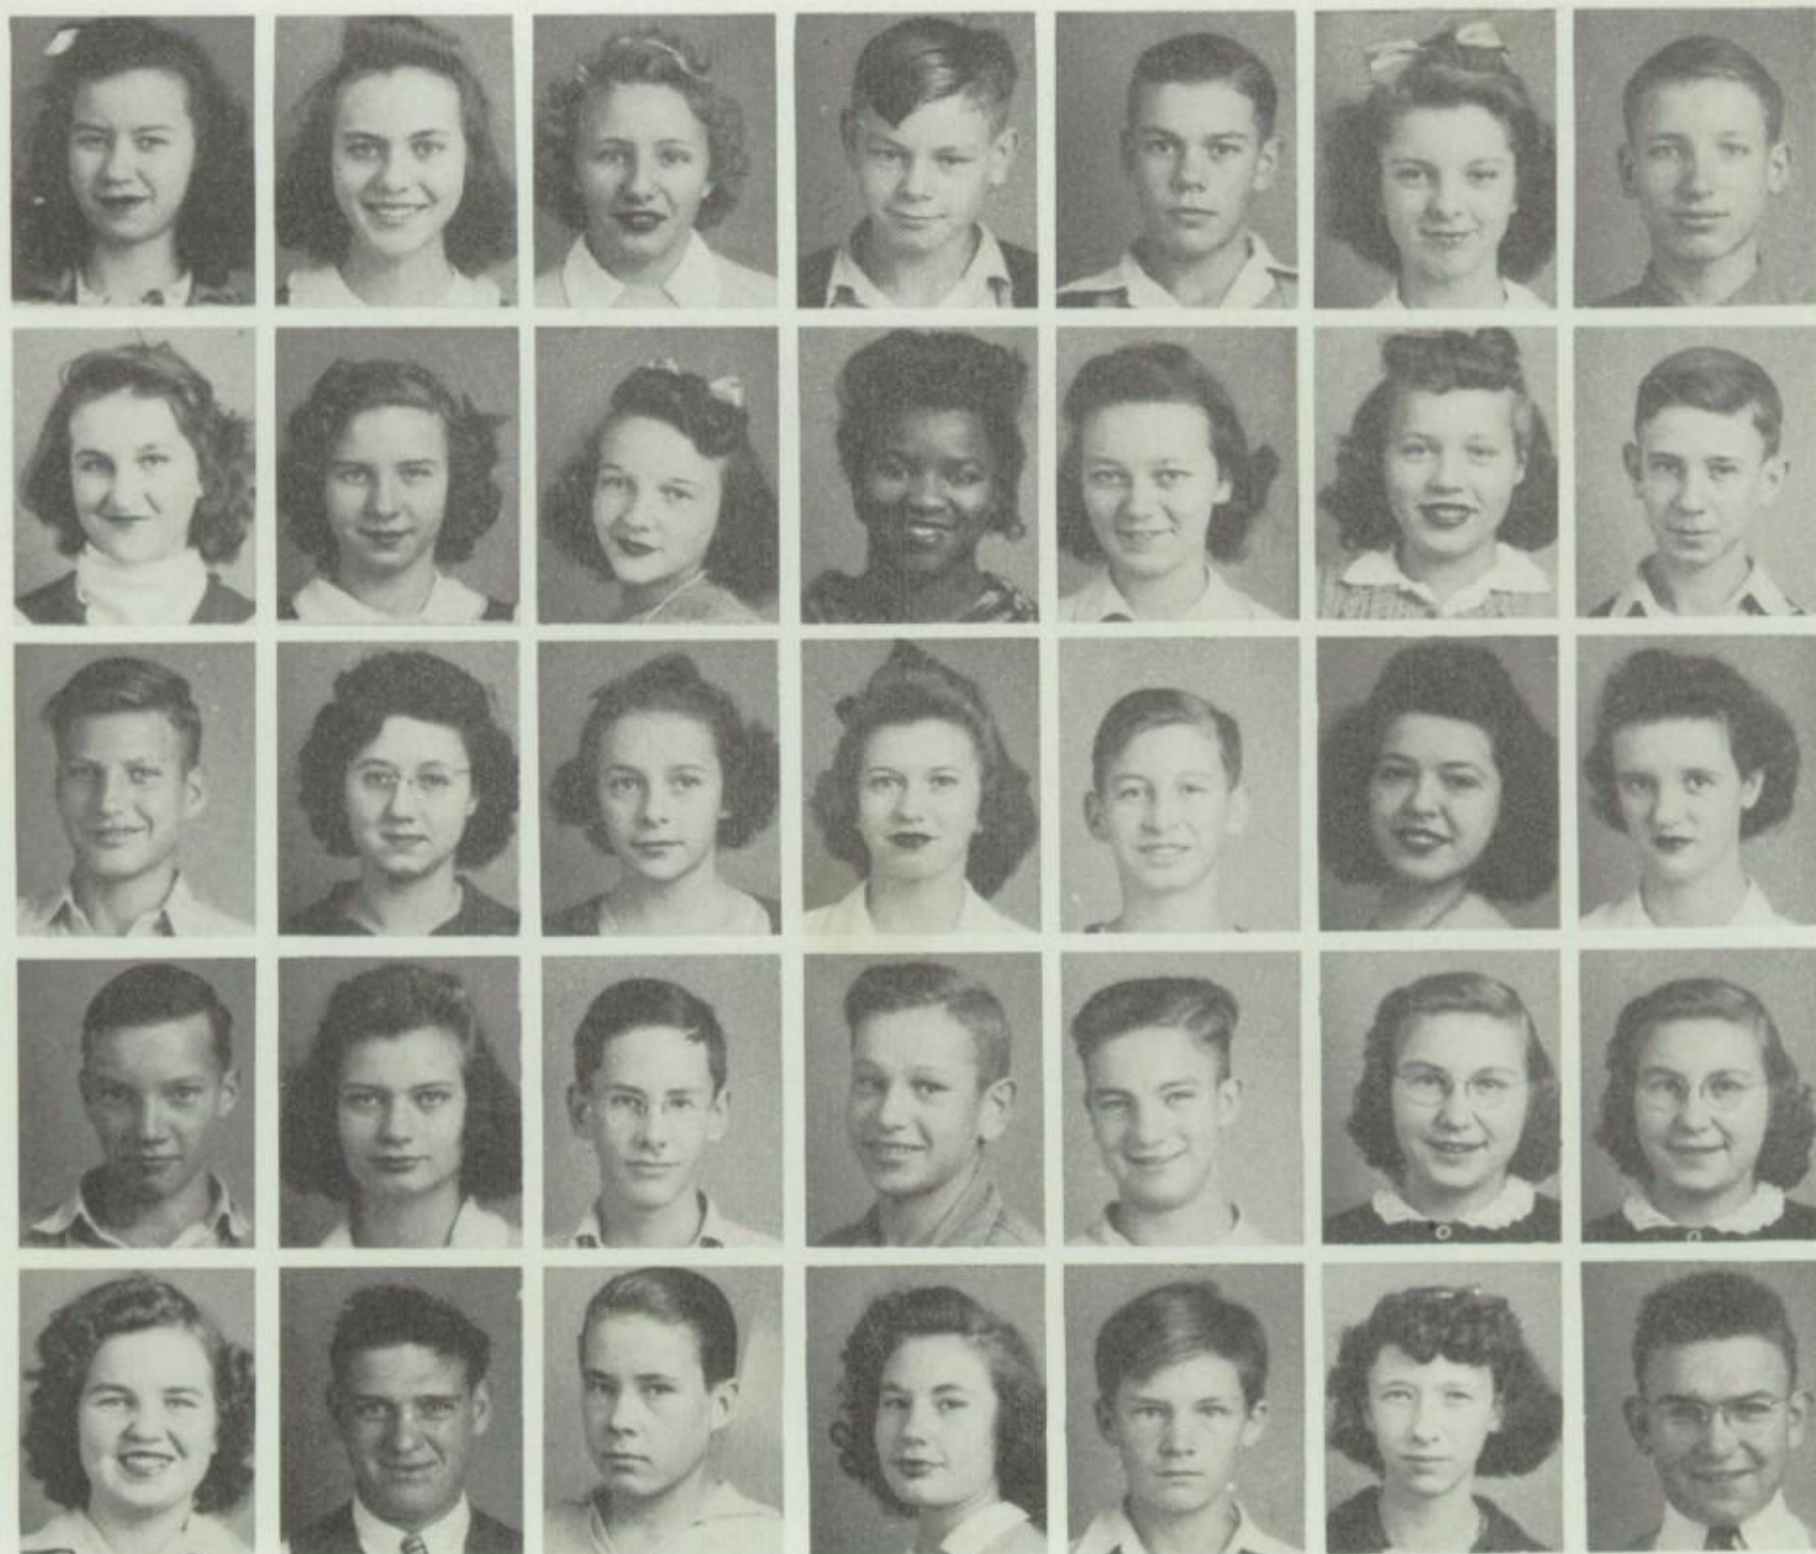

The Sophomore Class has finally outgrown the bewilderment thrust upon them in its Freshmen year and has entered into the sanctuary of learning.

The class met at the first of the year and by a unanimous vote elected Don Dick as its sponsor. Dick Rarrick was elected president; Harry Bullock, vice-president; Jack Johnsonbaugh, secretary; and Blanche Brand, treasurer.

The Sophomores have an intra-mural team which has won three games and lost three games. Their coach is Jack Johnsonbaugh.

The class has celebrated with one party which was held in the Roy-erton gym. Everyone enjoyed themselves thoroughly. The Sophomore Class spent a very industrious year and contributed much to the school.

Freshman Class

The Freshmen, at the beginning of the term, were anxious to elect their sponsor and class officers. Mrs. Falls was elected as sponsor and has successfully guided the class through a bewildering year. Billy Wilson was voted as president, Earl Nelson as vice president, Martha Watson as secretary and Gayord Toll as treasurer.

The purchase of sweaters was made this year because of the probable shortage of wool yarns in the coming few years. One party was enjoyed in the school gym, with cider and doughnuts being served.

The group is looking forward to more years as worth while as this one has been.

Senior Class Will

We, the undersigned, members of the senior class nineteen forty-three of Royerton High School, being of sound mind and of peaceful disposition toward the world in general, do hereby voluntarily and willingly bequeath and bequest:

To the Faculty, who have so willingly assisted in our struggle through these twelve years, another approaching senior class. May they always be as industrious and energetic toward school work as we, the late seniors have been. (gulp)

To the Juniors, the row of seats next to the windows so you'll have lots of light to study by.

To the Sophomores our art of persuasion so you may always be on good terms with the teachers.

To the Freshmen, three more years of school, each of which, we hope, will be filled with many happy and carefree moments.

To the underclassmen:

I, John Clevenger, do though reluctantly, will to Bob Kennedy the sole right to have his hair cut off just as short as he pleases.

I, Ralph McLaughlin, will my ability to keep out of trouble to John Williamson.

I, Charles Brown, will to Tom Hollaway the right to leave school without permission.

I, Billie Ullom, will Mildred Jefferson to anyone who'll take her.

I, Ralph Lawson, am gonna keep it.

I, Don Byrd, will to Margret Austin the right to get into more jams than anyone else in school. (Something new eh Maggie?)

I, Jay Strom, will to anyone the right to go to the lab without permission.

I, William Franklin Walker, being in questionable mind and health, do bequeath to Jack Buschor the right to ask as many and as foolish questions in the civics class as he may see fit.

I, George Wine, will to J. Powers my ability to take it from the teachers and give it right back.

I, George Fisher, will to "Dink" Meranda the right to loaf in the basement.

I, Tom Scott, will to Bob Beery the right to open the windows during Mr. Boyer's assembly period whenever he gets hot.

I, Roy Beal, will my bashful ways to Harry Graham.

I, Max Burt, will to Earl Jefferson the right to stay out after training hours.

I, Maurice Grile, will to Kenneth Green my great height to do with as he may see fit.

I, Philip Hesson, will to Helen McKinley my old wad of gum which you will find sticking under my desk.

I, Durward Moore, will to Willie Ullom one old desk, a broken pen point, a dry ink bottle, and a pile of old scrap paper.

I, Robert Meranda, will to Arthur (Whitey) Hillery my refined and quiet way.

I, Mary Hiatt, will to Evelyn Kirk my temper.

I, Loretta Headley, will to Bob Kennedy the right to switch girls as often as he may choose to.

I, Juanita Strahan, will to Maryellen Scott the secret of how to get 'em and hold 'em.

I, William Sargent, will my resplendent curly locks to Joe Leamon.

I, Olive Tuttle, will my ability in shorthand to Armstrong. No doubt she'll need it.

I, Betty Rutledge, will to Lois Bothast my place as the life of every party.

I, Bud Eller, will my old sweat shirt to Billy Wilson and my ability to play the trumpet to Roger Hunnicut.

I, Vera Jean Straddling, will to Mary Beeler the right to win all arguments with C. S. during band practice.

I, Helen Ullom, will to Dorothy Piner my tumbling ability in Ph. Ed. class.

I, Glenn Bushey, will to Ruth Buffington the right to argue with the teachers on any subject whether she be right or wrong.

I, Beulah Harrison, will to Helen McKinley my quiet and refined manner.

I, Myrtle Guffey, will to Gerry Bell my happy-go-luckiness.

I, Pat Hillery, will my ability to get along with the bus drivers to Tom Hollaway, Whitey Hillery, and Ralph Kim.

I, Dick Swain, will my little black book to Louie Piner.

I, Mary Louise Siferd, will my lovely red hair to "Snow White" Hillery.

I, Norma Flesher, will to Gerry Bell my long curly eyelashes and I also will my ability to keep out of trouble to Johnnie Williamson, Robert Beery, and John Fulhart. (???)

We, Martha Leannah Harman and Donna McCreery, will to Betty Michner and Donna Huffer the right to the coke machine at noon.

We, Marjorie Hawk, Bonnie Kirkham, and Lois Young, will to Evelyn Dragoo, Freda Dowling, and Lois Jean Bothast the right to leave school any time they shall see fit for no reason at all.

In conclusion, we, the late seniors, appoint as executors and administrators of this will, the Junior Class, knowing that they are superior to the underclass men in worldly experience.

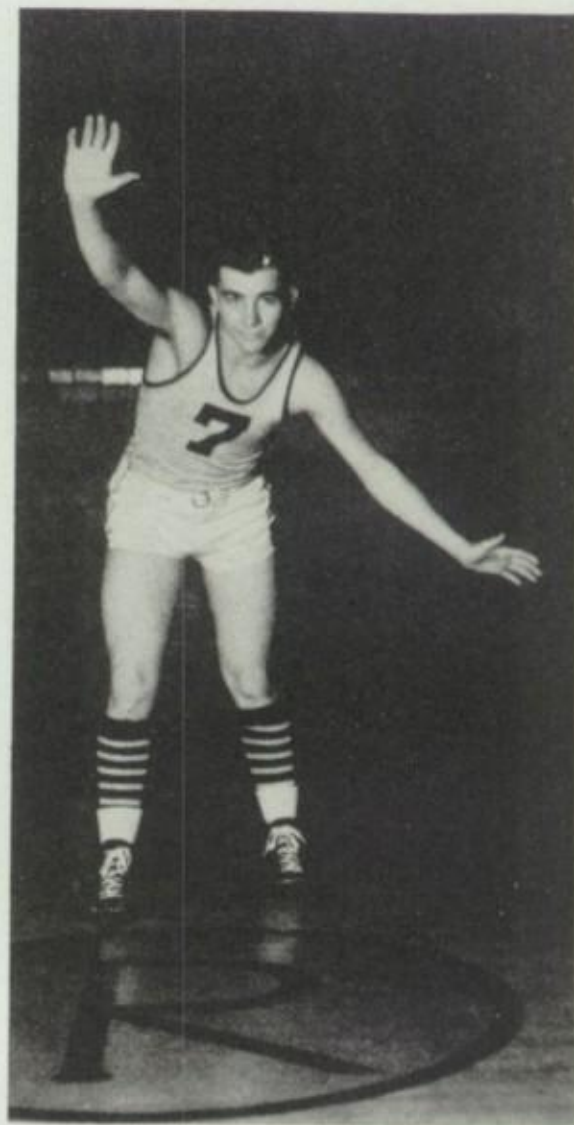

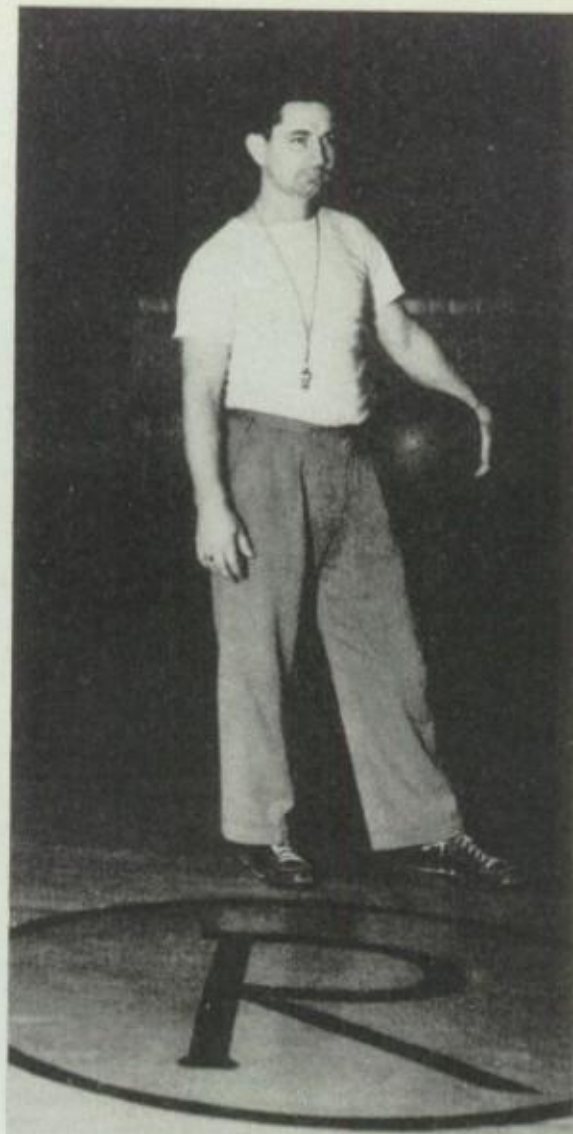

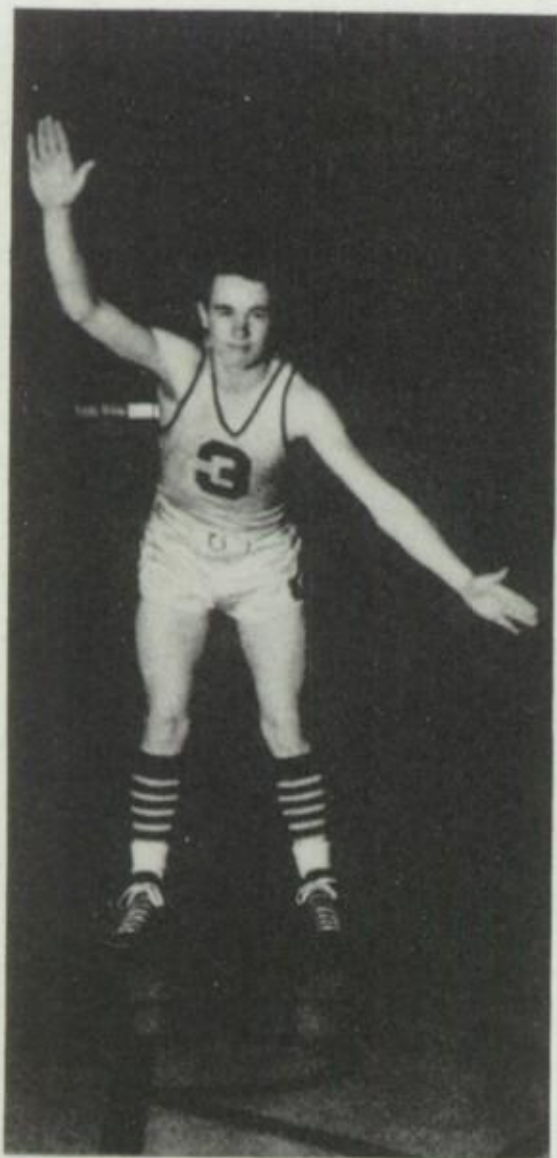

To this, our last will and testament, we do, this third day of February, in the year of our Lord, 1943, set our hands and our seal.

Signed

"COUNTY CHAMPS"

One of the cleverest teams ever to come from Royerton, gained championship honor at the County Tournament, although the opposition was much stronger in the county than usual this year.

A beautiful trophy and banner were presented to the team for their magnificent performance.

We also owe a special tribute to Mr. Don Dick who has worked hard for five years to attain this honor.

Yell Leaders

The Basketball season was brought to mind by the election of Billy Walker and John Clevenger as Yell leaders. Through their splendid yell leading, Royerton has had one of the best yelling sections of the county. Thanks boys!

Farewell

Now that the time has come to bid all those whom we've learned to honor and respect a fond farewell, we find that we're not so anxious to leave this fine institution of learning as we've pretended.

We feel deeply grateful to each and every person responsible for preparing us to enter the vast world of knowledge and experience. We wish to bid you all farewell and to leave with each of you this thought of Joseph Auslanders:

And can I ever bid these joys farewell?

Yes, I must pass them for a nobler life,

Where I may find the agonies, the strife of human hearts.
